

CEO SLEEPOUT OXFORD

University Parks
10th October

“We’re not a civilised society if people are dying on our streets” was the reminder Oxford’s mayor gave us to kick off the evening.

I was lucky to be able to experience sleeping rough in Oxford on Thursday night as part of the CEO Sleepout.

Hep₂₀

T W WIDDER
V K RIDDLE
H C TILLOTTE
A J WEBBE

H W WALKER
E W WEBBE
H F WEBBE

187
I G CAME
R F GOS
MICKLAND
P BELL
Y
M TH
M S
R SON
E TOTE BE

1878
A J WEBBE
A J EVANS
A D GREENE
A H HEATH
E T HIRST
C W KEM
P L KNICH
G S MARR
J H SAYO
A P WICK
H R WEB

18
R W
E

Even the northern lights showed up!

We might have woken up with frost on us but it wasn't hard for us. We got to go home to a kettle and a hot shower.

With 2024 figures escalating to 350,000 people without a home, the situation isn't getting better.

I drove back down the A34 the next morning with a happy heart from meeting so many local people who are doing endless good.

